About Ahavath Achim cultivates a Jewish community of purposeful belonging. We inspire and support spiritual journeys by deepening relationships with one another. We believe it is at the crossroads of our spiritual paths that life's purpose and God might be found. Ahavath Achim creates a vibrant, inclusive, spiritual community that empowers individuals to connect Jewishly beyond themselves.

LGBTQ-Specific Services and Info We don't just welcome LGBTQ+ individuals and families—we celebrate you as an essential part of our congregation's vibrant tapestry. Our commitment runs deep: our dedicated LGBTQ Inclusion Taskforce works continuously to ensure our synagogue remains a space where every person can worship, learn, and grow authentically. Year after year, we've proudly participated in Pride Shabbat services and marched together at Pride festivals, proclaiming that love is love, and that our tradition embraces the beautiful diversity of God's creation. We've opened our sacred sanctuary to host the AIDS Memorial Quilt, honoring the memory of those we've lost while fostering healing within our community. Through advocacy programs, educational initiatives, and moments of collective mourning and hope, we've confronted the injustices faced by the gay community during the AIDS epidemic—because justice and compassion are core Jewish values we live by. Additionally, we participated in a strategic planning congregational evaluation brought to us through a SOJOURN-Keshet collaboration, working with our lay-leadership to identify and illuminate blind spots in our inclusion efforts. AA's lay leadership proudly includes members of the LGBTQ community, including synagogue board members and past president, reflecting our commitment to diversity and inclusion.

Facilities Our sanctuary is equipped with a hearing loop allowing people to connect their hearing aid devices directly into our sound system OR use one of our listening headphone devices available at the entrance. We have ramps allowing wheelchair accessibility and a central podium with adjustable height allowing for adjustment for wheelchair use. We also have an automated door. We have several gender-neutral/single-stall restrooms located with our main floor restrooms.

Atlanta Jewish Film Festival

640 Roswell Street, Suite P • Smyrna, GA 30080 • 404.528.2614 • ajff.org • @atljewishfilm

Category Community, Social/Entertainment, Festival/Event

About The Atlanta Jewish Film Festival (AJFF) is the largest Jewish film festival in the Southeast and one of the largest in the world, offering a cinematic exploration of the Jewish experience. Seeking to build bridges of understanding through film, AJFF presents a broad range of narrative and documentary works that reflect Jewish and Israeli identity, history, and culture, as well as universal themes that connect us across diverse communities. Through our flagship annual festival and an expanding slate of year-round programming, AJFF inspires audiences to new levels of cultural curiosity and social understanding. Inclusivity is central to our mission — members of the LGBTQ+ community, ethnic or national minorities, and people of all faiths and backgrounds will always have a place at AJFF.

LGBTQ-Specific Services and Info Among our diverse array of films are titles that explore experiences within the LGBTQ+ community through a Jewish lens. These works foster dialogue, inspire conversation, and build understanding both during the festival and through year-round events, including community screenings, filmmaker Q&As, and educational initiatives.

Programs and Services The 26th Annual Atlanta Jewish Film Festival will take place February 18 – March 3, 2026 in theaters at Cobb Energy Performing Arts Center and other iconic metro-Atlanta venues, followed by an unlimited 10-day streaming window March 6–15, 2026. The festival showcases approximately 70–80 international and independent films, challenging audiences to see the world through new perspectives. Year-round programs include educational partnerships, a new Filmmaker Fund supporting Jewish storytellers, and community events that use film to promote thoughtful, meaningful conversations. Volunteer opportunities are available throughout the year in areas such as event hospitality, marketing, community outreach, and program support — from the flagship annual festival to special events like the AJFF Gala Concert, educational screenings, and Kenny Blank Vision Initiative programs. Visit AJFF.org/volunteer for more information.

About At Congregation B'nai Torah, community is an integral element of the Jewish faith, and fundamental to our strength. Congregation B'nai Torah's authentic and welcoming community helps you deepen your relationships with others who share your values and with G-d. We are committed to creating modern and meaningful experiences that are based in our rich traditions. We strive to make all who enter our doors feel at home and welcome you to join us.

Programs and Services We offer a full schedule of Shabbat, Holiday and daily services, with both traditional and alternative/enrichment options, accessible in person and virtually. Social programs bind us together as a community. A vibrant social action committee encourages our members to engage with and improve the larger world. A Keshet community ensures that every member of our congregation is cared for at time of need. Our state-accredited preschool welcomes learners from 13-months through Pre-K, and BTLab provides fun and meaningful educational and identity-building experience for children Pre-K through high-school. A thoughtful adult education program allows people to connect with the traditional and each other.

LGBTQ-Specific Services and Info Our clergy are available to serve all, irrespective of gender and orientation, and we especially seek to ensure that members of our community can have full access to Jewish practice, study and ritual without compromising the important aspects of their identity. A Gender and Sexuality Alliance provides a lever for members of the LGBTQ+ community and allies to increase visibility in our congregation. We host a regular PFLAG meeting on our campus.

About Congregation Bet Haverim celebrates Jewish living by fostering connections to people, to spirit, and to tradition. Bet Haverim ("House of Friends") was founded by gay men and lesbians as a Jewish home where they could bring their whole selves to fully engage in Judaism and Jewish life. Recognizing the value of hospitable and empowering community, CBH grew to enthusiastically embrace all Jews and their loved ones, particularly those who have wandered seeking acceptance. CBH today is a thriving community that celebrates diversity. We embrace the needs of families and individuals whose history, outlook, identity, or situation means they have sometimes not felt comfortable in Jewish environments. We take pride in our differences and our commitment to inclusion. This distinction is at the very heart of our existence, and it is why we became associated with the Reconstructionist movement, and we remain the only Reconstructionist congregation in Georgia.

LGBTQ-Specific Services and Info Annual Pride Musical Shabbat; Participation in the Atlanta Pride Festival; Events for Trans Day of Remembrance; Trans Day of Visibility Shabbat; The Prayer for the End of Hiding (a unique prayer created by CBH congregants) is read at the end of every service; active Gender Diversity Va'ad (Group); active Gender and Sexuality Justice Committee; gender inclusive programming at our community school.

Programs and Services Attend a Shabbat, visit our community school, participate in a Holiday/festival service event, engage with our Tikkun Olam (Justice) Va'ad, attend our daily evening minyan and/or morning mindful moments (meditation) online, attend a performance by our internationally acclaimed chorus, or drop by one of our adult education programs. You'll see Jews of all races, ages, and family constellations, Jews by choice, single parent and blended families, interfaith/multifaith families, LGBTQIA Jews, people exploring/considering Judaism, and Jews of all levels of observance, interpretations of faith and halakhah, and backgrounds/knowledge of Judaism.

Congregation Or Hadash

7460 Trowbridge Road • 404-250-3338 • www.or-hadash.org •
communication@or-hadash.org • @orhadashatl

Category Synagogue

About Or Hadash, meaning “new light,” is a home for Jewish connection, for the sacred, for authenticity, for the seeker. We believe that we each hold a divine spark of light inside of us, whether we’re total novices in Jewish prayer and study or we come from years of experience. We bring our full selves here, and we invite you to bring your whole self, too.

Our population is diverse - seekers of all ages, from babies and tots to members who are in their 80s. We have a growing population of singles and couples in their 30s and 40s and many families with children in our education program, Machon Hadash, and Jewish day school.

We strive to be an all-around comfortable place for all kinds of people, and that doesn't end with diversity in our prayer practices or Jewish experiences. We would love to invite you to check out our warm community whether online or in our space in Sandy Springs - our Friday night services are at 6:30, and our Shabbat morning services begin at 9:15am.

Facilities Our building is easily wheelchair accessible -- only one level -- and meets every ADA requirement for physical accessibility. We use sound amplification in the sanctuary to be sure everyone can hear. We have a single stall bathroom that is available for any individual or caregiver who might need or prefer that option. We know there is always room to grow in this area, and this is a priority for our community. If you find there are areas of our space or our practice where we can do better, please let us know.

About Each year, Creating Connected Communities equips hundreds of Jewish teens with the skills, confidence, and opportunities they need to thrive as leaders and changemakers in our Jewish community and beyond. During their training, CCC's teens learn about community needs, program planning, fundraising, partnership building, and philanthropy all through a Jewish lens as they develop friendships and bonds with Jewish peers across Atlanta. These teens then use their training to implement impactful, specialized programs that support thousands of metro-Atlanta children and families experiencing economic hardship. At these programs, CCC's teens provide tutoring support, STEAM activities, sports programs, and community and holiday celebrations as they distribute thousands of meals, books, personal care products, gifts, and more. Creating Connected Communities' mission is to provide life-enhancing programs for children experiencing hardship by empowering teens to become engaged community leaders and volunteers.

Statement on Inclusion CCC is committed to being an inclusive organization that represents our diverse community.

Facilities Our programs are at various locations in the community.

Category Camp

About The mission of In the City Camps (ITC) is to bring the proven impact of Jewish overnight camp—lifelong friendships, personal growth, Jewish pride, and a deep connection to Israel and the Jewish community—into an affordable, accessible, innovative day camp model. Our programs are designed for today's Jewish families who want their children to thrive in a joyful, safe, and inclusive environment. While ITC is proudly rooted in Jewish values and culture, interfaith families and children of all faith backgrounds are welcomed with open arms.

Six core elements define the ITC experience:

- A warm, welcoming, and inclusive environment
- Jewish role-model staff and counselors
- Engaging, culturally Jewish, values-based programming
- Age-appropriate, choice-based activity options
- An “overnight camp feel” in a convenient day camp setting
- A deep commitment to physical and emotional safety

Programs & Services In the City Camps is Atlanta's premier Jewish summer day camp, located in Sandy Springs and serving campers rising Pre-K through ninth grade. Campers enjoy a wide range of experiences—from sports, arts, and outdoor adventures to leadership development and Jewish learning—helping them build confidence, resilience, and lifelong friendships. With 11 bus stops across the city, ITC makes camp convenient and accessible for families throughout the Atlanta area.

Jewish Community Relations Council of Atlanta

rachelw@atlantajcrc.org • @JCRCAtlanta

Category Community, Advocacy, Education

About The Jewish Community Relations Council of Atlanta is a nonpartisan nonprofit that works to bring Jewish organizations and individuals together in coalition with non-Jewish groups where possible to practice our Jewish values through social action and advocacy aimed at improving Georgia for all. We aim to inform and educate the Jewish community about key issues and facilitate cooperative efforts while promoting civil discourse.

Programs & Services JCRC holds online Gold Dome and Donuts sessions weekly during the Georgia legislative session and monthly the rest of the year for updates and discussion on issues of importance to the Jewish community that are before the General Assembly. We hold an in-person Peach Politics panel discussion at the legislature early in each session. We hold quarterly Community Councils open to all Jews and Jewish organizations to discuss issues of concern. We organize the Hunger Seder, an interfaith spring gathering to draw attention to and discuss responses to food insecurity. We work with partners to ensure school districts know about Jewish and other holidays and to support accurate teaching about Judaism, Jews and Israel.

Jewish Voice for Peace - Atlanta Chapter

Atlanta, GA • atlanta@jewishvoiceforpeace.org • Instagram: @jvp.atlanta
• Facebook: facebook.com/jvpatlanta

Category advocacy, political education, havurah/Jewish culture and practice

About We envision a world where all people – from the US to Palestine – live in freedom, justice, equality, and dignity. Like generations of Jewish leftists before us, we fight for the liberation of all people. We believe that through organizing, we can and will dismantle the institutions and structures that sustain injustice and grow something new, joyful, beautiful, and life-sustaining in their place.

Programs & Services Legislative advocacy and coalition-building, Political education, Campaign work, Jewish cultural and ritual community, Holiday observance and religious practice

LGBTQ+-Specific Services and Info Jewish Voice for Peace is a queer-led organization, on both a local and national level. For many of us, our queerness as Jews is inextricably connected to our commitment to doikayt, the Yiddish term for “hereness,” which roots us in an intersectional approach to community building, safety through solidarity, and mutual aid that extends within the Jewish community and beyond, throughout Atlanta’s movement ecosystem. At havurah events, you will find community with whom to explore nonbinary Hebrew prayers; in the streets, you will be surrounded by queer and trans Jews; together we are building a Judaism beyond Zionism that refuses to forget that the first Pride was a revolution.

Category Advocacy, Community Service, Education

About National Council of Jewish Women (NCJW) is a non-partisan, grassroots organization of volunteer advocates who turn progressive ideals into action. Inspired by Jewish values and guided by the central call to action "Justice, Justice Shall You Pursue" (Deuteronomy 16:18), NCJW strives for social justice by improving the quality of life for women, children, and families and by safeguarding individual rights and freedoms. The Atlanta Section of NCJW was established in 1895, two years after the national organization was founded in Chicago. NCJW is the oldest Jewish women's grassroots organization in the country. From its earliest days, NCJW Atlanta has been at the forefront of standing up for women's rights and prioritizing care and services for children and families. NCJW Atlanta's vast array of work during the first half of the 20th century included resettling immigrants, offering a free kindergarten program, establishing free hygiene programs, securing housing and organizing English language classes for refugees fleeing Europe. Mid-century, NCJW, Atlanta Section launched its lauded Tay-Sachs Disease Prevention Program in conjunction with Emory University. In the decades since, NCJW Atlanta has led the way in community service, education, and advocacy efforts on behalf of seniors, women's rights and reproductive healthcare, the homeless, the LGBTQ+ community, maternal and infant health, and children in Title 1 schools. While our efforts over the years are constantly evolving, we strive to be true to our mission of helping women, children, and families.

Statement on Inclusion We are steadfast supporters of the LGBTQ+ community and welcome its members to volunteer with us throughout the year.

Programs & Services We offer many volunteer opportunities throughout the year in the areas of advocacy, community service, and education. These include educating the community on progressive issues and engaging our legislators to advance work in the areas of reproductive justice, voting rights, judicial fairness, gun safety, and antisemitism. Our community service work focuses on food insecurity, period poverty, refugee resettlement, maternal and child healthcare, and supporting Title 1 schools with tutors and supplies.

Category Social/Entertainment, Festival/Event, Community

About Nerananah, formerly the Atlanta Jewish Music Festival, is a non-profit cultural event series with roots in Jewish culture and musical traditions. Nerananah entertains and connects diverse audiences through the exploration of Jewish contributions to music and the performing arts, celebrating its intersections with other cultures and communities. Our name means “come together and sing.” We honor tradition but are far from traditional. Our minds and ears are open; the fingerprints of Jewish culture can be found all around us. We seek not to define Jewish arts and culture, but to embrace its diversity, subjectiveness, and personal nature to create a space open and inviting to all.

Programs & Services All of our programs are open to the public. We do not discriminate based on gender, race, age, socioeconomic class, or Jewish affiliation (or lack thereof).

PJ Library in Atlanta

404.870.1636 • pjlibraryatlanta@jewishatlanta.org • Instagram and Facebook @pjlibraryatlanta • jewishatlanta.org/initiative/pj-library-jbaby/

About PJ Library, a national program of the Harold Grinspoon Foundation and locally supported through the Jewish Federation of Greater Atlanta delivers free, age-appropriate Jewish books each month to children from birth through age 12. PJ Library goes beyond books. We build Jewish connections through family-friendly events, playgroups, and a network of Parent Connectors—helping families engage in meaningful Jewish experiences right in their neighborhoods.

Category Jewish overnight camp, retreat and rental center

About Ramah Darom brings people of all ages together for exceptional experiences in Jewish living and learning on our 185-acre North Georgia mountain campus. Ramah Darom programs – including summer camp, family camps and year-round experiential retreats – inspire a lifelong love of Jewish values, tradition and community. Nestled in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains and surrounded by the Chattahoochee National Forest, Ramah Darom is a welcoming place that offers experiential Jewish programs for all ages throughout the year. In the summer, young campers at Camp Ramah Darom have transformative Jewish experiences: they learn new skills, forge identity, gain independence and build lifelong friendships. During the year, Ramah Darom Retreats at the Kaplan Mitchell Retreat Center offer adults and families the chance to explore, learn, create, connect, build community and further their passions and interests through a Jewish lens.

Statement on Inclusion Ramah Darom is proud to be an inclusive space. We welcome groups of all backgrounds, religions, abilities, identities, and orientations.

Programs and Services From Camp to multi-generational retreats, Ramah Darom invites everyone to explore their Judaism, connect through nature and celebrate our wonderful and rich culture and heritage. From Family Camps to LimmudFest, from Passover Retreat to Book it to Shabbat with PJ Library and Jewish Women's Getaway, there's truly something for everyone all year long.

Repair the World

sheefra.blumenthal@wererepair.org • wererepair.org/communities/atlanta/

Category Community, Education, Social/Entertainment

About Repair the World is the Jewish service movement. Service is how we express our Judaism, strengthening communities and addressing urgent needs. Launched in 2018 as Repair's eighth community program, Repair the World Atlanta mobilizes people to take action in pursuit of a just world, creating joyful Jewish experiences through service and learning.

We tackle pressing issues like food insecurity, housing, and educational inequity by partnering with local nonprofits to make a difference. Service connects young adults with Jewish life, building purpose, community, and belonging. It also offers support and a path forward in moments of crisis and bridges divides by uniting Jews and their neighbors from different backgrounds to build understanding and common ground.

Through the Service Corps, young adults ages 18-29 commit 5-10 hours per week to volunteering with a local non-profit partner, connect with the Jewish community, and discuss foundational elements of social change.

Statement on Inclusion Repair the World seeks to honor the multiple, intersecting identities of Atlanta Jews and their loved ones. We prize inclusion as one of our core values and strive to create an organizational environment and programs that allow everyone to bring their whole selves to service. This specifically includes welcoming and celebrating the unique contributions of LGBTQ+ individuals.

About At Temple Emanu-El, we are a Reform community building a congregation of thought-leaders, spiritual seekers, and engaged Jewish change-makers. Temple Emanu-El is infused with the dedication and hard work of its members. Our vision is guided by these essential principles: To foster strong Jewish identity in a complex world, to empower our congregants with passion for Jewish learning, to discover beauty and joy through Jewish prayer, ritual, and observance, to nurture Jewish values that respond to the changing needs of modern families, to sustain a thriving congregation with dynamic youth engagement, to sing together as an inspirational and healing tool, with music as a focal point of connection

LGBTQ+-Specific Services and Info Temple Emanu-El welcomes folks of all identities. We have many teens who identify as part of the LGBTQ+ community and we provide safe spaces for them to explore their Jewish and queer identities. From sermons to social justice, affirmation ceremonies and education classes, we are here to support the LGBTQ+ community and those who love them.

About Temple Kol Emeth is a Reform congregation in East Cobb founded in 1982 by seven families who felt the need for a Reform Jewish presence in Cobb County. We are a community built on the pursuits of Torah (study), avodah (worship), tzedakah (charity) and ma'asim tovim (good deeds). These are not mere concepts; they help form the very foundation of our Jewish community. Our population comes primarily from throughout Cobb and Cherokee Counties. We also have members from North Fulton, Paulding and Bartow Counties. We serve all ages and stages, with thriving communities of young families, senior adults, and everything in between. Our Friday night Shabbat services are music-filled and bring all generations together to celebrate the joy of community. We have members who grew up in the Reform movement, those who grew up in other branches of Judaism, those who chose Judaism, and those who don't identify as Jewish, but have Jewish partners.

LGBTQ+-Specific Services and Info Our community includes LGBT+ members at every age and stage of life. They are on our boards, in our Religious School, reading Torah publicly, and our clergy love supporting them for their varying lifecycle and pastoral needs. We host Pride Shabbat every year (this year on October 10, 2025) and are proud to be a SOJOURN Community Partner.

Facilities We are ADA compliant, occupy a single-floor building, and have one single-stall all-gender bathroom available.

About Temple Sinai is a Reform congregation that values lifelong Jewish learning, a warm spirit of community, a sense of inclusivity, and active participation in Jewish life.

Statement on Inclusion At Temple Sinai, we strive to create a welcoming and comfortable environment for all, affirming the principle of inclusivity in all areas of Jewish life. In every program along the spectrum of lifelong learning, we commit ourselves to educating in a way that fosters acceptance of diversity and encourages full participation from a broad-based membership. We welcome all who wish to participate, regardless of age, marital status, sexual orientation, or financial means. Gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender individuals, interfaith families, people with disabilities, and individuals of all ages are welcome. There's a space for you at our table.

Programs & Services We offer educational opportunities that empower our members to make informed Jewish decisions based upon Torah, tradition, and progressive Jewish thought. Our community serves as a center of Jewish life and as an extended, caring family for whom we provide a Jewish context for life experiences. We encourage spiritual growth and expression. Our clergy and lay leadership are accessible to all members. Our congregation offers many avenues for involvement, welcomes participation in our leadership, and continually challenges itself to meet the needs of our members. We are committed to congregational participation in social action and to strong support for the State of Israel.

Facilities ADA accessible, family/companion restrooms, single-stall gender-neutral restrooms, single-gender changing/shower areas without stalls.

The Temple

www.the-temple.org

Category Synagogue

About Founded in 1867, The Temple is Atlanta's oldest and most diverse synagogue—and one of American Judaism's most historic congregations. For more than 150 years, we have been guided by a tradition of social justice and a commitment to making Jewish life accessible to all. These principles are reflected in our "Vision and Values," including our commitment that "Our Doors are Open to All."

LGBTQ+-Specific Services and Info The Temple embraces a vibrant LGBTQ+ community, offering opportunities for social connection, social action, and spiritual growth. In 2010, we piloted SOJOURN's Welcoming Synagogues Project to ensure every program and service fosters inclusion. Today, that commitment continues through the Rothschild Social Justice Institute and Temple Mosaic, which champion unity, diversity, and belonging. We also partner with leading organizations—including Keshet, SOJOURN, and SEA Change—to strengthen our advocacy and education efforts. The Temple hosts meaningful events that celebrate and honor the LGBTQ+ community, such as marching in the Atlanta Pride Parade and celebrating Pride Month, observing National Coming Out Day with community programs, commemorating World AIDS Day through remembrance and education, and offering educational workshops, including a recent program on understanding gender identities.

Programs and Services

Young Professionals (YP): Regular worship and community-building opportunities.

- Weinberg Early Learning Center (WELC): Half- and full-day programs for children ages 3 months to 4 years.
- Breman Education Center (BEC) – Georgia’s only program accredited by the Association of Reform Jewish Educators: Engaging over 600 students each week, pre-K through 10th grade.
- Adult Learning & Engagement: Conversion classes, interfaith couple programs, lifelong learning, and social justice initiatives.
- Small Groups: Through our “ages and stages” model, we bring people together by life stage and interest. This model personalizes the Temple experience, affirms that each person belongs, and ensures a caring community where everyone is embraced.
- ShalomCare: We support the mental health and wellbeing of our community with ShalomCare, The Temple’s address for learning, raising awareness, and counseling for mental health challenges, helping Temple members know that, whatever their struggles, they are not alone.

Facilities Our facilities are fully ADA accessible, nearby public transportation, and include family restrooms—underscoring our commitment to serving people of all ages and abilities.

Glossary of LGBTQ+ Terms

Gender Identity - an identity based on one's relationship to femininity and masculinity, especially as it relates to society and culture.

Gender Expression - how one externally presents one's gender identity through behavior, clothing, haircut or voice, and which may or may not conform to socially defined behaviors and characteristics typically associated with being either masculine or feminine.

Biological Sex - A label given at birth based on medical factors, including hormones, chromosomes, and genitals.

Assigned Gender At Birth - sometimes abbreviated to AGAB, this refers to the gender identity assumed for someone at a young age, usually based on their hormones, chromosomes, and genitals at birth. Assigned Female at Birth (AFAB) and Assigned Male at Birth (AMAB) are the specific designations based on above.

Non-binary - a term someone might use to indicate that they don't fit into the gender categories of "male" or "female".

Transgender - anyone who doesn't identify with their assigned gender at birth.

Cisgender - anyone who identifies with their assigned gender at birth.

Intersex - someone born with reproductive or sexual anatomy that is typically not exclusively "male" or "female" (i.e. XXY Chromosomes).

Pronouns - a way to refer to someone without using their name. Historically these have been gendered, i.e. she/her or he/him. However, gender-neutral pronouns can include singular they/them, xe/xem, ze/hir, and more.

Sexual orientation - an identity based on the people someone is sexually and/or romantically attracted to.

Glossary of LGBTQ+ Terms, cont'd

Asexual - someone who experiences no sexual attraction to anyone (though they could still be romantically attracted to people).

Aromantic - someone who experiences no romantic attraction to anyone (though they still could be sexually attracted to people).

Gay - usually refers to men who are attracted to other men; is also used as an umbrella term for diverse sexualities.

Lesbian - women who are attracted to women. This may include nonbinary or transmasculine people that identify as part of the lesbian community.

Bisexual - someone attracted to their own gender and other genders.

Pansexual - someone who is attracted to people regardless of gender.

Queer - historically used as a slur, this term has been reclaimed as a broad umbrella term to describe sexual and gender identities other than straight and/or cisgender. Queer is sometimes used to express that sexuality and gender can be complicated, change over time, and might not fit neatly into either/or identities.

Heterosexual or Straight - a cisgender person who is attracted exclusively to other cisgender people whose gender is different from their own.

This list of terms shows the variety of language that people can use to describe themselves; which is often evolving, therefore this list is far from complete. Terms exist so that people can reach for language that feels applicable, feel proud, and find community with others who identify the same way. The purpose is NOT to establish rigid categories that people feel excluded from or pressured to fit into. When someone says how they identify, that's how they see themselves. It's everyone's job to take that identity seriously and with respect.
